RAID BOYS' POKER GAME, TWO FINED

Describes Torture By Reds

Hungarian Makes Escape

(Seventy-four days of solitary confinement; 200 hours of ruthless interrogation with a flood-light burning into his eyes, and then a presumably-drugged bowl of coffee that led him to a false "confession." This is the dramatic story told herewith by the Rev. Laszlo Vatai, former member of the Hungarian parliament.)

By THE REV. LASZLO VATAI

—GENEVA—(INS)— When, in December, 1946, the communists started their campaign against a 'conspiracy' allegedly aimed at the Hungarian republic, I was a representative of the small Peasants party in the Hungarian parliament.

A month after news of the so-called conspiracy broke out, the communist press listed my name among the "conspirators.'

On the night of January 21, 1947, I was arrested.

I was taken to number 60, Andrassy street, headquarters of the political police in Budapest, and locked up in a subterranean cell.

For 74 terrible days I remained alone in that little dark, camp cell without any covering. The only food given me consisted in a cup of hot water called "soup" in the morning and in the evening some bean soup with eighty grams of bread.

20-HOUR SESSIONS

I underwent about 200 hours of interrogation, single sessions often lasting as long as twenty hours with scarcely any let-up.

I was compelled to answer all questions in writing. It was not sufficient to answer a question once; I had to write the answer to the same question over and over again.

When I felt at the limit of endurance my interrogators resorted to the flood-light treatment.

A flood-light of blinding force was placed less than two feet from my eyes. The police forced me to look fixedly into the glaring mass.

In the course of one of these sessions, the colonel offered me a large bowl of black coffee.

I do not know whether anything had been added to it. All I remember is that after quaffing this bowl of marvellous coffee the whole world which until then had been unbearable became infinitely pleasing.

It was in this state that I signed the statements placed before me by my interrogators. I do not know why I signed.

Weeks later I had regained sufficient lucidity to withdraw my entire "confession." At the trial in August, 1947, I got away with a six month sentence. At the end of my six months in prison I escaped to Switzerland with my wife.

Coal Strike Causes Cut

PITTSBURGH — (INS) — The sixth day of John L. Lewis' two-week memorial mine strike today found the steel industry beginning to feel the pinch.

The Sharon Steel corporation announced yesterday it will close one blast furnace and four open hearths at its Farrell, Pa., works on Monday because of a coke shortage.

The company indicated that between 200 and 300 steel workers may be idled as a result.

Bulletin

Dale M. Fry, 28, Mansfield, R. D. 5, was seriously injured at 11:35 a. m today when his car was demolished by a westbound Pennsylvania freight train at a crossing on Sites road, three miles southeast of Mansfield. Fry was taken to General hospital in a Wappner ambulance. He suffered a serious head injury and a crushed chest, sheriff's deputies said.

Tygers Out-Cage Bobcats 50-43, Play Finals Tonight

By FRED THARP, News-Journal Sports Editor

TOLEDO—Mansfield Senior high school today was still in the running for its first state basketball championship since 1909.

The Tygers kept their title hopes alive last night by squeezing out a 50-to-43 victory over a comparatively weak Bowling Green quintet. Tonight at 8:15, Mansfield plays Toledo Central Catholic for a state tournament berth on the Toledo fielldhouse hardcourt, as the state race is narrowed to four teams.

Toledo won the other semi-final contest last night by defeating Columbus Central, 61 to 30. The Toledo team has won 24 and lost three while Coach Vern Hoffman's squad has 19 wins against seven defeats.

NINE STRAIGHT

Mansfield broke up a thrilling though at times sloppy contest by scoring nine straight points in the final four minutes to walk off with its sixth victory along the tournament trail. On the strength of showings last night, the Bengals will enter tonight's fray strictly in the role of underdogs.

But the experience won't be new for the Tygers as they have been on the short end of the odds in both sectional and district tourney finals. In the sectional, Mansfield knocked off Bucyrus,

3 Injured In Head-on Auto Crash

Vacationists Hurt On U. S. Route 42

At least three persons were injured in a head-on collision of two cars on U. S. Route 42, approximately three miles southwest of Ashland early this morning, state highway patrolmen reported.

Taken to General hospital were Gerald W. Dennis, 21, of Newark, N. Y., possible chest injury; Gilbert H. Defendorf, 31, of Syracuse, N. Y. severe lacerations of the chin and lacerations of the scalp; and Mrs. Fay Gibbens, 32, of Toledo, severe lacerations of the face.

Dennis and Defendorf were treated and released. Mrs. Gibbens was admitted to the hospital where her condition was reported "good" today.

The accident occurred when a car driven by Dennis, traveling south, was hit by a second car traveling north, officers said. The driver of the second car was taken to Ashland hospital and left before patrolmen were able to learn his identity or extend of his injuries.

Patrolmen said there was considerable snow on the highway and the second car came over on Dennis's side of the road, hitting his car head-on.

Defendorfer and Mrs. Gibbens were passengers in Dennis's car. They were riding in the front seat and received lacerations from broken windshield glass. Patrolmen said Dennis and his passengers were returning from California.

William Meech, of Akron, driver of a CCC Highway,Inc., truck, escaped injury in an accident on Ashland hill at 6:30 a. m. today.

According to highway patrolmen, Meech lost control of the truck which left the road and hit two trees.

Driver, Girl In Argument; Car Smashed

SPRINGFIELD — (AP) — Maurice E. Brewer, 26, got into an argument with his girl friend as they motored along Merritt road today.

Then, this happened:

Brewer lost control of the automobile.

The car knocked down eight guard-rail posts and hit a bridge over Buck creek.

One end of the 50-foot steel and wood span was knocked into the creek.

When Brewer and Alethea A Humphrey, 24, finally extricated themselves from the wrecked car, they discovered neither had been injured.

Steelworkers Out On Strike

YOUNGSTOWN — (AP) — More than 100 loaders and loader helpers walked off their jobs at the Republic Steel corporation's open hearth and tube mills yesterday, mill officials said.

Republic Superintendent Harry White said no grievance was filed. "We feel that the union is in violation of the no-strike clause in the contract," he said.

Members of the CIO United Steelworkers said the dispute was over job classification.

Top 1949 Red Cross Goal By 6 Per Cent

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Franklin county joined in going "over the top" today, with 106 per cent of its Red Cross goal successful.

Norman E. Gatsch, Columbus insurance executive, was named chairman of next year's drive. The amount collected for 1949 was reported last night as $316-545.

Winter Still Frisky

New Snow Blanket Coats City Area

Mansfield got its daily snowstorm right on schedule this morning. And the sun came out as usual to melt most of the snow off downtown streets by noon.

About an inch of snow covered the city during the night and early morning, once more giving streets a slippery coating.

The snowfall was fairly general over Ohio, some communities in the northeastern part of the state getting as much as four inches.

The mercury fell to 18 above in Mansfield today, the last day of winter, and it's due to drop again tonight. Sunday, when spring arrives, is scheduled to be warmer. Spring officially will be here at 5:49 p. m., tomorrow.

The city street department had two trucks spreading cinders on the streets at 2 a. m. today and three more trucks joined in ice and snow control work later in the morning.

State highway patrol reported highways in this area were slick this morning.

Salt and cinders that have been placed on the streets almost every day for the past 10 days help control a new snowfall, street workers said.

Mansfielders who attended the Mansfield-Bowling Green basketball game last night in Toledo made the return trip on slippery roads, but the state highway patrol reported there were no accidents between Mansfield and Toledo.

4 Men Killed In Auto Crash

POTTSVILLE, PA. — (INS) — Four men were killed today when their automobile failed to make a curve, rolled over an embankment and landed upside down in the Schuylkill river near Pottsville.

State police were unable to identify the victims immediately.

The men, all dressed in work clothes, apparently were enroute to their jobs when the accident occurred. No one witnessed the accident.

PREDICTS HIS PROGRAM WILL BE PASSED—Holding his first press conference of his two-week vacation in Key West, Fla., President Truman predicts that most of his legislative program will be adopted despite opposition of a Democratic-Dixiecrat-Republican congressional coalition. Standing in back of the President on the lawn of the "Little White House" during the press conference are, on the left. John Steelman, presidential advisor, and Adm. William Leahy. the President's chief of staff. To the right of Mr. Truman is Charlie Ross, press secretary.

Rap Delay In Mifflin Township

Parents Seek Action On New School

Parents of Mifflin township school children will meet in Vetsville hall tonight in an effort to determine the cause of delay in starting construction of a new school building.

The Mothers club invited school board members and Boyd Robinson, Richland county superintendent of schools, to attend the meeting which is scheduled as a box social.

Children in that area now are attending five one-room schools that parents term obsolete.

Raymond V. Page, Laver road, yesterday charged that at some of the schools the doors are in such decrepit condition it is necessary to lock them from the inside to keep them closed. He branded this a dangerous fire hazard for the children.

Three years ago a bond issue in excess of $48,700 was voted and an additional $24,000 bond issue was passed last fall to meet rising construction costs. Architect Charles J. Marr of New Philadelphia, was hired to draft plans of a six-room building at U. S. Route 30 and Reid road where an old red brick school building now stands.

Robinson said a delay has been encountered in the printing of the bonds authorized by the new issue. A typographical error necessitated reprinting the bonds. These bonds, which must be advertised for four weeks, are only now being printed but Robinson reports their sale is assured.

Funds from the first bond issue now are available but the full amount is needed before construction starts. V. G. Dudley, secretary of the Mifflin township school board, said he understands Marr already has been paid $2,100. Robinson said Marr is ill in White Cross hospital in Columbus.

Robinson said the old school rooms now in use had been repaired to assure safety to the children, but a complete remodeling of the structures would be needless with the proposed building plans nearing completion.

ONE DIES IN MISHAP

DAYTON — (AP) — Carmen Ronald Hughes, 48, was killed today when his automobile collided head-on with a bus.

Probe Fatal Plane Crash

ST. CLAIRSVILLE — (INS) — Air force officials from Wright field, near Dayton, were conducting an on-the-scene investigation today into a plane crash that claimed the lives of two reservists.

The victims were indentifed as Lt. Robert Woods and Lt. Herman Eitel, both of Akron.

Identification was made by the air force reserve unit in Cleveland after the two officers were killed in the crash of their AT-6 in a field five miles west of Barnesville.

Eitel was identified as the 30-year-old vice president of the GI Cab company in Akron.

Engine trouble was blamed in the crash. The plane left Akron yesterday on a routine training flight.

Man, 2 Children Perish In Flames

COLUMBUS — (INS) — A man and two children were suffocated early today in a davenport fire in an apartment above the Dutch cafe, Columbus.

Dead are David W. Short, 49. Richard White, 3. and his sister, Ruth Ann, 2. Firemen found the girl in bed and the others lying on the living room floor of the third floor flat.

MAN CRUSHED TO DEATH

SPRINGFIELD — (AP) — Jennings B. Heflin, 52. Norwood, was crushed to death early today when his truck crashed into a railroad caboose.

32 Cars In Rail Crash

None Injured In Pennsy Crackup

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Thirty-two loaded boxcars were wrecked today when a diesel-drawn Pennsylvania railroad freight train cracked up on the western outskirts of Columbus, blocking both east and west through traffic. No one was injured.

Contained in the chain of cars were three gasoline tankers, which spilled highly-explosive fuel over the track area.

The 97-car, St. Louis-to-Columbus train was expected to block the tracks until late this afternoon, forcing rerouting of all Chicago-New York traffic over the B and O lines through Piqua.

J. M. Williamson, division superintendent, said the 48,000 ton wreckage contained five carloads of flour for European export and a carload of wine.

Williamson said practically all of the cars were fully-loaded boxcars. He said the debris also spilled over a siding.

Seeks OK On Wheat Pact

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Agriculture Secretary Brannan today expressed "strong hope" that Congress will ratify the 48-nation wheat agreement fixing world price ceilings at 1.80 per bushel.

The four year pact, expected to be signed next week, carries a price minimum ranging from $1.50 the first year to $1.20 in the fourth and final year.

It has been tentatively approved by 42 wheat importing governments and five exporters now meeting to draft the pact. Final agreement is expected early next week.

J. C. Van Essche, of Belgium acting conference chairman, said, in announcing partial agreement on terms of the pact, that Russia has withdrawn from the negotiations.

Girls Demand That School Clean House

ALEDO, Ill. — (UP) — More than 50 Aledo high school girls said today that they would not return to school "unless we can wear jeans or until the place is cleaned up."

About half of the school's 130 girls wore blue jeans to classes Thursday, but were sent home by Superintendent James C. Graham, who insisted that they wear skirts.

"Our school building is so dirty we can't wear our good clothes," one of the girls said. "Either they let us wear jeans, or we won't go back until they clean up the place."

Russians Level Blast At Alliance

Claim It's 'War Against Soviets'

LONDON — (INS) — Moscow radio attacked the North Atlantic Defense pact as "war against the Soviet Union" today.

But this anticipated bitter criticism failed to lessen western European enthusiasm over the agreement even though a Soviet countermeasure such as tightening of the Berlin blockade is expected.

Some circles even voiced fears that Russia might resort to even more drastic action such as military occupation of Finland.

The first Soviet reaction came in the form of an English-language broadcast by a Moscow commentator who said the pact was the work of "Anglo-American imperialists."

The broadcaster, Vladimir Lemin, said:

"It is not only Italy which fights the Atlantic pact. . .

"Millions of people realize that the pact means war on the Soviet Union.

Newspaper comment on the pact ranged today from the New York Times' laudatory description of the treaty as "statesmanship at its best" to the New York Daily News' editorial wryly titled "Uncle Sap Makes It Official."

The Times said:

"The pact itself menaces no nation that does not threaten others."

The New York Herald Tribune:

"The North Atlantic treaty is essentially and inescapably defensive.

The Daily News, voicing disapproval of the alliance, commented editorially:

"This treaty will make it easier than ever for a war-minded president to finagle us to the brink of war.

Lift 'Ban' On Atomic Town

OAK RIDGE, TENN. — (UP) —A burst of white fire set from an atomic pile 15 miles away burned the ribbon to the gates of Oak Ridge today.

It took a millionth of a second for the impulse to travel over telephone wire and go off with a sound like an air rifle.

Now, the public can enter the town unrestricted.

Immediately, souvenir hunters rushed to salvage fragments of the red and blue ribbon.

Urges Pact For Pacific

MANILA — (UP) — President Elpidio Quirino said today that the United States should take the initiative in forming a Pacific alliance similar to the Atlantic pact to fight communism in the Far East.

"America should take the lead in the Far East and not concentrate her entire attention on Europe," Quirino said.

"If America is going to abandon us, then our vast potential strength to the United States will be lost.

"Europe is used up—an economic liability. But this is a virgin region, with unmeasured resources and people who are eager to take advantage of the blessings offered by democracy.

"America should not fail us in the Orient."

Crash Proves Fatal

MARION — (UP) — Charles Simms jr., 22. of Waldo, was killed early today when the automobile he was driving struck a concrete bridge near here and burst into flame.

10 Youths Found In Pool Hall

Court Assesses Proprietor $200

Ten school boys and the proprietor of a Harker street pool hall were arrested last night when police "accidentally" found the boys in the hall where a poker game had been in progress.

The proprietor, Paul Franklin Adams, 48, of 316 North Main street, was fined $200 and an 18-year-old youth $100 in county juvenile court today. The youth's fine was suspended on condition of good behavior.

Police said a poker game had been in progress and that one of the youths had won all the money.

Police said the 18-year-old boy, a pupil at Senior high school, was the dealer in the game. The other boys ranged in age from 14 to 17.

Adams operates the North End Billiards at 219 Harker street where the arrests were made.

Officers said they went to the pool hall in search of a youth wanted on a felony charge when they found the youths in the back room. The boy they were looking for was not in the pool hall.

The gambing raid last night was the first by Mansfield police in several months.

CONTRIBUTING CHARGE

Adams was charged in juvenile court with contributing to the delinquency of minors in that as the owner he permitted the youths to be on the pool hall premises and to engage in games of chance for money.

Adams, who said he has owned the pool hall for about three weeks, at first denied to the court that he permitted minors to gamble. The 18-year-old who was dealer then was called back as a witness and said he acted as dealer, getting 20 per cent of the "take."

Adams then admitted he was guilty, and told the court he had "been in other places in town and seen the same thing going on."

The 18-year-old youth pleaded guilty to contributing by engaging in a game of chance and making wagers with minors in a game of stud poker. Judge Cramer suspended his fine on condition that he go to school regularly and warned him that the next time he would be fined and given a jail sentence. He has never been in court before.

Each of the 'teen agers was taken before the court in the judge's office, and each admitted having been in the pool hall last night. They were all charged as delinquents because they were loitering in a pool room where gambling is permitted.

5 CONFESS GAMBLING

The boys who said they gambled for money were placed on one year's probation. In this group were four 16-year-olds and one 17-year-old.

Those who confessed being in the pool hall to shoot pool or as spectators were given six-months probation. Included were a 14-year-old, two 16-year-olds and a 17-year-old youth.

Judge Cramer warned each of them to stay out of pool halls and to be in at hours specified by the court. During their probation they are to report to the juvenile officer each Saturday.

Parents of the youths told the court they did not know their sons were going to the pool room. The youths said they had been going there from as much as four months to two weeks.

The arrests were made by Patrolmen Roeliff R. Hout and Charles A. Condon. They said that they confiscated a table, 10 chairs, $2.75 in change, seven punch boards, one tip sheet, one poker sheet and one cookie jar.

Striking Pupils Take Firm Stand

PORTSMOUTH — (UP) — A strike of 171 of 350 students at nearby Wheelersburg high school went unsettled today after meetings between school board officials and leaders of the walkout.

The students walked out Thursday, then refused to report back to classes yesterday. The strike was touched off by the forced resignation of George T. Thomas, school musical instructor.

Heart Attack Fatal

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Funeral services are being arranged today for former Ohio Penitentiary Warden James C. Woodard, 77, who collapsed and died of a heart attack.

Woodard complained of feeling ill yesterday at noon and walked to a nearby physician's office, where he was stricken with coronary thrombosis.

Got 'Looped In Lounge'

Bandit Adds Insult to Injury, Sues Railroad

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Baltimore and Ohio railroad is being sued for $50,000 by one of two men who admit holding up its crack streamliner.

George L. "Duke" Ashton, who says he is 20 and a minor, contends the railroad is to blame for the train robbery because a B. and O. employe angered him after selling him alcoholic drinks which made him drunk.

His companion in the holdup, Luman "Skip" Ramdsdell, 22, is still in a Washington hospital. He was shot when he and Ashton were arrested just six blocks from the White House a few hours after the robbery.

Both Ashton and Ramsdell have been charged with the robbery, and have been indicted in West Virginia under the federal anti-racketeering statute. They are to be sent to Fairmont, W. Va. for trial.

Yesterday robbery charges were filed against Ashton in Martinsburg, W. Va., near which the train holdup occurred. Ashton's attorney said the youth is willing to plead guilty to the earlier charges because the sentence is lighter.

Ashton's suit against the railroad was instituted by his mother, Mrs. Ruth Ungar, and was filed by John M. Webster, Ashton's lawyer.

The suit alleges that Ashton was served several drinks on the B and O's Ambassador, limited on March 9, the day of the robbery. Then, the suit said, one of the line's employes, "obviously aware" that Ashton was drunk, allowed himself to get into an argument over drinks on the train's table "in the state of West Virginia, contrary to both law and prudent judgment."

Ashton later said the train robbery was a spur-of-the-moment holdup that grew out of the argument. Passengers and crewmen said the two took about $1,000 from them.

Filibusters Show Some Bills Unwise

Such Measures Not Enforcible

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The filibuster is a device, unknown to the Constitution, by which a group of states can, if they are sufficiently determined, prevent the enactment of laws. The southern senators have once again prevented the enactment of laws.

They have in this instance used the filibuster to prevent a change in the rules of the Senate which could, if adopted, have made it easier to enact the civil rights bills.

Thus they have prevented a majority in Congress from passing laws that a minority of the whole nation living in a minority of the states dislike. Put that way the whole business is as outrageous a violation of the democratic principle of majority rule, as well as of the rights of man, as one could imagine.

But that is not the way to put it if the true inwardness of the thing is to be understood. The truth comes out of it all only when we recognize that we are dealing with a condition of government and not with a theory of government.

The question is not what the majority ought to do, or what it would like to do, but what it can do. There are certain kinds of laws which, though enacted, cannot be enforced by any means that the majority is able or willing to employ.

The cost, the trouble, the futility and the danger of trying to enforce such laws are so great that the majority will not, as a matter of fact, insist on enforcing them. If it is wise, it will not enact such laws. If it cannot be wise enough not to enact them, it will then be insincere about enforcing them.

The filibuster is a peculiar American device by which laws cannot be enacted when a powerful minority is determined not to obey. The filibuster does not preclude all unenforcible laws. Congress has passed many laws that proved to be unenforcible. But the filibuster does preclude laws that a large minority is determined to make unenforcible.

The proof that those laws would be unenforcible is that enough senators could not be found to conduct a successful filibuster if the communities from which they come were not behind them. A large and sustained filibuster is a rough but adequate preview of the difficulties of enforcement.

However, there have been occasions when the filibuster was, as Woodrow Wilson put it in 1917, the action not of powerful communities but of a little group of wilful men.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, March 20

Sunday's horoscope shows the deeper feelings' to the fore, with religious, apiritual and subtle factors inciting the activities. These may be in unusual lines of thought and action, in which dreams, ideals and subjective matters may be influenced by strange, curious or odd circumstances, contacts or drives. There may be a social weakness, error or faux pas to undermine these high hopes and aims. Regulate emotions.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, are likely to encounter a year in which curious, strange, unique or hidden factors dominate the activities and flavor all affairs, personal and business. Exceptional insight, intuition, hunches, or intriguing propositions may beget surprising denouements, with the feelings and emotions rather than sordid crises uppermost. With such allure, glamor and human feeling, it could be easy to be guilty of some social error, detrimental to cherished dreams.

A child born on this day may be disposed to operate from the urge of hidden forces, factor and feelings, with the quest for making ideals and dreams come true the animating force of its existence.

Women Successful In Business Ventures

Synagogue Fund Growing

When members of the Sisterhood of the B'nai Jacob Temple were faced with the problem of raising funds to help in the remodeling of their synagogue, they decided to go into business in their own homes.

They met, discussed the problem and named Mrs. Nathan Lifson as project chairman.

After she was named to head the money-raising project, Mrs. Lifson sat down and cogitated thus: "People get tired of making donations. They like to have value received, so this time we'll give them something for their money."

Each woman of the Sisterhood went into business or joined several others in cooperative projects designed to make money.

Although not all the women have started their projects, the dozen or more who have seemed to have found the Midas touch.

For instance, Mrs. Ben Booksbaum turned a $408 the other day to the chairman as the result of a card party and a rummage sale. So far that's the biggest check received, although the others will not be far behind by the end of June when the project is expected to be completed.

A dinner served to members of the congregation at the Temple netted $168. The members who planned and served the dinner were Mrs. Phil Oxman, Mrs. Bertha Rosenbaum, Mrs. Sol Selfman, Mrs. Meyer Berrick and Mrs. Morris Post.

MAKE APRONS

Then there are the women who like to make aprons, so they turned their talents into apron-making for the benefit of the Temple. They include Mrs. Carl Graver and Mrs. Leo Budin.

SISTERHOOD GETS CHECK—Mrs. Ben Booksbaum, right, presents Mrs Nathan Lifson with a check for $408.40 as her share in the fund-raising campaign which members of the B'nai Jacob Sisterhood are conducting. Mrs. Lifson, left, is general chairman of the project. The check, representing the largest amount yet made by any one member, was Mrs. Booksbaum's proceeds to March 15. Since then she has made an extra $40. Funds are to be used for the remodeling of the Temple, 50 Sturges avenue.

"A really good cake is hard to find, "Mrs. Lifson said, "but if you want one that's really out of this world and haven't time to bake it just call Mrs. A. W. Bloom or Mrs. Sam Berman."

Mrs. Sam Harris, who sells Passover products, is turning her salesmanship talents into money for the fund. Mrs. Robert Shaffer and Mrs. Charles Kates are planning a style show and social function for some time in May.

And a luncheon deluxe with beautful trimmings will be the product of Mrs. Max Meisel, Mrs. Morton Stern and Mrs. Elmer Klein.

So it goes. By the time June rolls around the B'nai Jacob Sisterhood expects to have quite a few hundred dollars ready for the improvements. These improvements include a community house or hall for the children and a swimming pool. As yet, members haven't decided whether to remodel the present Temple at 50 Sturges avenue or erect a new synagogue, but whichever it is, it will be financed in a large part by the Sisterhood.

Mrs. Lifson has promised a garden party at her home, 720 Woodhill road, and awards for those who turn in the most funds. And the big prize winner will be named "queen of the day."

Rips Vandenberg for Stand On Filibuster

Perhaps the senior senator from Michigan would be both shocked and angered by receipt of an invitation from the Ku Klux Klan. But the very least in gratitude they could demonstrate would be an invitation to Senator Arthur Vandenberg to its next konklave, at which an honorary membership in the KKK would be bestowed on the Michigan senator for the great service he rendered on March 11.

The Klan, with like-minded organizations and individuals, are bitterly fighting the civil rights program, as everybody knows. They are quite aware that their existence would be short-lived if the present inadequate federal civil rights statutes are strengthened.

Were the Department of Justice and the Federal Bureau of Investigation given authority by Congress to proceed against such subversive organizations, and thereby supply the margin of protection not now given by some of the states, such organizations as the Klan would be wiped out in short order.

Up to the time Senator Vandenberg took the Senate floor to make an impassioned plea to his fellow senators to override the anticipated ruling by Vice President Alben Barkley, that debate could be limited on motions to take up a bill as well as on the bill itself, informed persons in the Senate predicted Barkley's ruling would be upheld by a margin of at least two votes.

Newspapers reporters, of long experience in the Senate gallery, are unanimous in the opinion that never has Senator Vandenberg spoken with such deep feeling, even when he was advocating an inter-national policy on which much of his reputation is based, as he did in pleading with the Senate to uphold his own ruling of August 2, 1948, that cloture cannot be applied to preliminary or procedural motions.

IN BAD TASTE

With unaccustomed bitterness, Senator Vandenberg lashed out at what he termed a "curious device by which the August precedent is thus sought to be escaped." Inasmuch as Senator Vandenberg himself had created the precedent, many considered his appeal to uphold himself an act of singularly bad taste.

Senator Vandenberg begged the Senate to repudiate the only possible means under the Senate rules to shut off the filibuster and secure a vote on the proposal he professed to favor.

Competent persons estimate that Senator Vandenberg's speech on March 11 resulted in the switching of between five and eight votes, chiefly Republicans. In all fairness to the Michigan Senator, none of those who switched their votes really wanted to vote to uphold Vice President Barkley's ruling.

Some of the conservative Republicans are fearful that a good legislative record by the 81st Congress may insure Democratic victories for several years to come.

They enjoy seeing the bitter fight between northern and southern Democrats and want to see the brawl continue. They and some other senators favor the fallacy that more speeches by senators enlighten the people, basing their arguments not on quality but on quantity of words. Senator Vandenberg's speech gave these senators the odor of sanctity and the aura of respectability in voting against the Barkley ruling.

The 46 - 41 vote, made possible by Senator Vandenberg's speech, thereby gave assurance to the Ku Klux Klan and the bigots of America that they could continue to operate virtually unchecked and unrebuked. The Michigan Senator did not intend this to be true. But that is precisely what his appeal brought about.

'Devil' Lands In Hot Spot; Tosses Dope

CLEVELAND —(INS)— A Detroit police character known as the "Devil" and two of his Cleveland accomplices were in a hot spot today.

The three were arrested last night in Cleveland after they allegedly sought to avoid arrest by hurling $500 worth of narcotic from a fourth-floor hotel room window.

The dope landed right in the arms of Detective Wayne P. Neal who, along with his partner, Detective Howard D. Burmeister placed the three under arrest and hauled them off to city jail.

7th Graders Top Simpson Honor List

25 In Class Win Places On Roll

By JANE GERMANY and SANDRA NICHOLS

Forty-five pupils from John Simpson junior high school were placed on the honor roll for the past semester, according to an announcement by Harry J. Dotson, principal.

The ninth grade placed 11 students on the roll. They are Harlan Burns, Frank Daniels, Jane Germany, Donna Heichel, Elfriede Lahm, Beverley McKeehen, Margaret Runyon, Dolores Schneider, Patsy Smith, Joann Stranski, Warren Worthley.

There were 13 in the eighth grade, including: Nancy Bair, Carol Becker, Sherry Fike, Richard Fry, Joanne Haerle, Arthur Hergatt, Marion Idle, Carolyn Kendig, Annamarie Nelson, Patricia Quinlan, Harry Theohar, Ruth Yerman and Jacquline Wyllie.

HEADS LIST

The seventh grade had the largest list with 25 honor students. They were: Antoinette Baraban, Alice Beatty, Walter Bodley, Mary Alice Boyd, Robert Crawford, Nancy Connor, Mark Deck, Mary Eblert, Loretta Eliot, Patricia Foote, Shirlee Freese, Wilbur Gerber, Harvey Glasgow, Carol Hurst, Elaine Kaufman, Marilyn Knarr, Kenneth Konves, Jack Lehman, Doris McDowell, Paul Park, Gerda Rauch, John Stoneburner, Shirley Sweet, Kathleen Thieding, Mary Walker.

One hundred and 51 other students, including 91 girls, won honorable mention.

Bill Semonoff, Room 105, is in the hospital suffering from a broken ankle which he received in the exhibition game at the Friendly House.

Simpson's second sales tax stamp drive, for the Junior Red Cross, started this week, with five rooms turning in stamps according to Miss Catherine Darling, building adviser.

The printing classes are printing the tickets for the boys' and girls' glee club program to be given April 8 at 8:15 in the auditorium.

Wesley Beck has recently been added to the library staff. Donald Tennant is attending the Music Education National Conference in Davenport, Iowa. Mrs. Virginia Davidson is substituting for him.

John Simpson has two new students. Billy Foss came to Simpson March 15 from Appleseed. Bill has a three-year perfect attendance record. Bill Perry has recently moved to Mansfield from New Boston.

Novel of War-Time London Tops List of New Fiction

"HEAT OF THE DAY," by Elizabeth Bowen, a novel of war-time London, is among the new books which will be available at the Mansfield Public library Monday.

Although it has a war-time setting, the book is one of character rather than action. Stella Rodney, widowed mother of a young soldier, is contented in her war job and with the man whom she plans to marry. However, she gradually learns he is a traitor. He does not deny it, but dies either by suicide or accident.

THE BIG BARBECUE, by Dorothy Hughes, is a cleverly contrived, hilarious comedy about a lovable bunch of characters. A glamorous young thing from Greenwich Village in search of a movie career takes her innocent parents to New Mexico where they become involved in an amazing plot.

THE CHAIN, by Paul I. Wellman, is a novel about a minister and his struggle to make his church serve all the people of the community. It is a dramatic story of the spiritual regeneration of a community through the sacrifice of one man.

EUROPEAN RECOVERY PROGRAM, by Seymour E. Harris, is an objective discussion of the program. The object of the book is to explain ERP and the major issues involved. This is important reading this year when the legislation covering ERP will be reviewed, and should form a lasting description of the program for historians.

THE FAMILY ON GRAMERCY PARK, by Henry Noble MacCracken, is a book of reminiscences of a New York City boyhood.

SEVEN STOREY MOUNTAIN, by Thomas Merton, is the autobiography of a young American poet who after her conversion to Roman Catholicism entered the Trappist Monastery in Kentucky.

Other non-fiction: UNDERSTANDING TELEVISION, by Dunlap; RUSSIA AND THE RUSSIANS, by Crankshaw; PLANNING FACILITIES FOR ATHLETICS, RECREATION, by National Facilities Conference; DOOR-TO-DOOR SELLING, Lifshey; LITTLE DEMOCRACY IS A DANGEROUS THING, Ferguson; SUMMER AND SMOKE, Williams; LEARNING TO GARDEN Gunnison; PROGRAM FOR THE NURSING PROFESSION, EVERYDAY MIRACLE, Eckstein.

Addresses YW Group

Miss Langendorfer Talks Here March 30

Miss Laura Langendorfer, of Buffalo, N. Y., former president of the National Industrial Girls council of the YWCA, will be the guest speaker at a dinner, sponsored by the Employed Girls club of the Mansfield YWCA, March 30.

The dinner will be held at the Mayflower Congregational church at 6:30 p. m. It is being held as part of the 22nd world-wide observance of business and professional girls clubs in the YWCA.

The annual observance is in recognition of employed girls groups as an important part of the world-wide organization.

Miss Langendorfer will speak on the general theme of the observance, "Strengthening Our World Links."

At least 65 are expected to attend the dinner. Invitations have been sent to members of the board of trustees, and war brides who spoke at meetings of the Employed Girls club have been invited to attend as guests of the club.

Included in the program will be the reading of greetings from other associations and a worship service planned by a girl in Japan which has been sent to all associations for use at this time.

The dinner is open to all employed girls in Mansfield. Reservations must be made at the YWCA office by March 25.

Miss Dorothy Bacquet is chairman of the dinner.

PAGE FOUR MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, MARCH 19, 1949

Drive carefully tonight and tomorrow—and keep within speed limits at all times.

And just to think, in the "good old days" some people complained that the government was extravagant because it gave away garden seeds.

Many a person who has started out to accomplish something has found his chief obstacle to be too many advisers. Sometimes that happens to nations, too.

Intent of Pact Is to Prevent War

A GREAT MANY Americans are going to examine the terms of the North Atlantic treaty, released yesterday, with minute care before endorsing it. Likewise, they are going to expect the Senate to study it thoroughly when the pact comes up for ratification.

The agreement for mutual defense among the U. S., Canada, and six nations of Western Europe represents a radical departure from the traditional foreign policy of this country. It is precisely what the first president, George Washington, warned against in his farewell advice to his countrymen. It is an "entangling alliance" which not only could—but is designed specifically to—pull us into war.

However, proponents can point out with reason that times have changed since the early days of the Republic. The world, whether we like it or not, is more nearly one in time and space if not in thought.

We are now, in the Atlantic pact, face-to-face with the question of whether we shall extend our defensive borders beyond the oceans and say so on paper.

Actually, of course, the late President Roosevelt fixed our eastern defensive border at the Rhine river. The proposal now is to extend it eastward to the line of the iron curtain.

While the pact pays eloquent lip service to the United Nations, it plainly was evolved in an attempt to do a job which U.N. has failed to do.

In simple words, the treaty divides the world into two parts. And it gives the United States the burden of defending the non-communist half.

It is perhaps necessary that the U.S. now formally assume that task. But certainly it is a step that should be carefully surveyed before it is taken.

Present Post Office Well Located

ENLARGEMENT of Mansfield's present post office building, by extension on already purchased ground to the east, will impress many as sound and economical procedure; rather than making the huge expenditure that would be required to erect an entirely new building on some other site which, in all probability, would not be as conveniently located as the one now in use.

Need for additional space in the Mansfield post office has long been recognized, which resulted in government purchase of an insurance company's property just east of the post office.

This available space seems ample to provide for sufficient enlargement to meet any foreseeable requirements for main post office service—with branches conveniently located in various parts of the city.

With the post office department steadily operating at a loss, and with the vast expenditure of federal funds taken into account, it would appear that retention of the present post office location—with enlargement to meet present and probable future needs—would be preferable to the extravagant course of acquiring a different site and meeting the high cost of an entirely new building.

Season of Easter Seals Is Here

A NUMBER of Mansfielders are receiving through the mail a sheet of Easter seals, sent by the Ohio Society for Crippled Children, which sponsors this annual activity to add to its fund through which crippled children are helped in various ways.

It is of local interest that William C. Mead, of Mansfield, is treasurer of the state organization, and an ardent worker in its behalf.

A contribution of $1, or more, is invited from each of those to whom seals are mailed, and this is recognized as a worthy cause, doing admirable work in behalf of handicapped children.

Those Flimsy Aluminum Plates

MOTORISTS who are already having trouble with those fragile aluminum license plates being issued for the year starting April 1, will approve Governor Lausche's idea that use of steel plates should be resumed next year.

It appears that the aluminum plates—weak as they are—cost considerably more than the satisfactory steel plates previously in use, and there seems to be no reason why the 375 tons of aluminum said to be on hand shouldn't be disposed of for other uses and steel secured for next year's plates.

Vishinsky's Book Reveals Thinking

ANDREI VISHINSKY, the new Russian minister of foreign affairs, is the first Russian official in many years to have a reputation for learning, outside the fields of politics or diplomacy. His book, "Law of the Soviet State," issued in English translation barely a month before he assumed his new office is a monument of erudition.

It goes deep into legal questions, and is a mine of information. It is also a mine of misinformation and a guide to communist agitators the world over. Nowhere outside of Russia could such a mixture be produced. Readers who have the perseverance to plow through it will learn a good deal about the workings of the Russian mind.

Frankly Speaking

As the Smoke Clears

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — The Senate's fantastic Who-Shot-John? drama is over. "John" was President Truman's civil rights program.

The program, says Democratic Leader Lucas, was embalmed after three weeks of debate when the drama ended in a stunning victory for the southern Democrats.

Southerners weren't officially claiming a victory but Senator Russell of Georgia said "We salvaged as much as we could."

Everyone knew the southerners loaded the pistol. But who really pulled the trigger?

The Trumanite Democrats blamed the Republicans, the Republicans blamed the Democrats for any damage done.

At the end the southerners, who had done the most talking, sat back calm and pleased, while the others argued.

The gigantic gabfest, one of the most unusual performances in Senate history, began Feb. 28.

The senators have been talking since then, filibustering, and filibustering on how to end a filibuster, splitting hairs, carting in huge dictionaries to confound one another with the meaning of words, berating one another, protesting their sincerity in all they were doing, and taking three weeks of talk to find out how to stop talking.

Through it all the Galleryites peered down steadily to see where the body was buried. There was more buzz-buzzing by little groups of senators than I have seen in six years in Washington, more little huddles, more heads together, more arms-around-the-shoulder business, more signing of petitions.

On the surface the civil rights program wasn't an issue at all. And some senators even said it wasn't, only to be jibed at by others who said a spade needed to be called a spade.

* * *

Highlights of Procedure.

THERE are too many technical points to go into here, but this is the show in outline:

The Truman Democrats rolled up the curtain in February to set the stage for bringing up the civil rights program later.

Right there the southern Democrats started their filibuster. They knew that if they could throw sand in the machinery now, the civil rights program wouldn't have a chance later.

Instead of forcing the issue—by keeping the Senate in continuous day and night sessions, thus forcing the southerners to wear themselves out talking—Senator Lucas, leader of the Truman Democrats, let all hands go home every evening and rest up for the next day's talk. This was pretty soft on the southerners.

These tactics of Lucas' later brought taunts from the Republican leader. Senator Wherry of Nebraska, that Lucas never really wanted to end the filibuster.

But—when Vice President Barkley proposed a way to end the filibuster, most of Wherry's Republicans joined the southern Democrats in voting it down. The Republicans said they wanted the filibuster stopped all right, but in a different, more legal way.

Then Lucas taunted the Republicans with insincerity. The southerners, since nothing had been done to stop them, just kept on talking. Meanwhile, all other Senate work piled up.

Thursday night the Senate finally approved a proposal by Wherry for stopping most, but not all, filibusters. Wherry said it would permit action on civil rights. It works like this:

Two-thirds (64) of the 96 senators, whether the 96 are present or not, must vote to end a filibuster before it can be stopped.

This makes stopping a filibuster even harder to do — and therefore easier for the southerners in the future — than the old rule. But it covers more territory: it can be used to stop debate on a motion. The old rule couldn't.

Under the old rule only two-thirds of those present at voting time could stop a filibuster if a bill were pending. For example: Two-thirds of 50 could do it. But now, if only 64 senators are present, all 64 must vote yes.

Washington Calling

Product of 'Boss' Rule

By MARQUIS CHILDS

TO CHARGE President Truman with deliberately pushing the country into socialism, as some of his opponents are now doing, is to ignore the facts of his background and experience. The farm, the small town, the city political machine — these conditioned him and they have nothing to do with socialism.

The only kind of socialism he experienced is the socialism—if it can be called that—of the city boss who takes money from the rich for favors and gives part of it to the poor in benefits such as jobs, coal and food in bad times.

That has been one of the chief functions of the city boss—to equalize somewhat the extremes of difference between rich and poor. In the process, of course, the boss, like any good broker, usually enriched himself.

This raises, it seems to me, a question that few have considered in relation to the far-reaching social welfare program advocated by the President in his campaign last fall and now before Congress. To install and make effective, for example, a nation-wide system of health insurance is a large and difficult undertaking.

It implies a high degree of administrative capacity from the top down. Perhaps even more important, it implies a fairly literate citizenship; a people who will accept the limitations and abide by the rules in order that the professed goal of greater health benefits for all may be attained.

But whether in this phase of our political development we have that capacity is the question that should not be ignored. There is no use putting in a welfare system that looks beautiful on paper if in practice it is unworkable or nearly unworkable.

In certain southern states up to 60 percent of all aged persons are receiving pensions out of state and federal subsidies. That is a far higher proportion than could be justified by any valid system.

Here is the danger. We shall get not the social welfare state that both proponents and opponents talk about so glibly. Instead we shall get an official extension of the political handout, riddled by graft and favoritism.

* * *

Conditions are Different.

POINTING in this direction is Rep. John Rankin's bill to give all veterans at the age of 65 a pension of $90 a month, the cost estimated at $125,000,000,000 over the next 50 years. That is the handout state with a vengeance.

Those who argue for the widespread extension of federal security programs seem to assume that the pattern here of social insurance can parallel that of Great Britain. But regardless of whether this is desirable — I am not arguing that—it is doubtful that it would follow that line.

Britian is a small island with a homogeneous population. Years of education in the trade unions and other organizations have brought a wide understanding of the disciplines as well as the benefits of social welfare programs.

Let's face the facts. The cancer of graft battening on mis-government is such that it threatens to undermine even the ordinary functions of local administration in this country.

The California commission on organized crime has announced after a careful and thorough study that the slot-machine syndicate is spending at least $400,000,000 a year for "bribery and corruption of public officials." That statement from a reputable and serious body is terrifying.

There is too much complacency in Washington: the easy assumption that new laws will cure old evils. Social security is a recognized function of modern government. But that is something quite different from the handout whether by a boss or by a handout system enacted into law.

Summary of Week's Happenings

Congress Refuses to Accept 'Mandate'

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

TANNED and refreshed after a two-week Florida vacation, Mr. Truman is ready again to pick up the heavy burden of executive duties.

While the President relaxed at Key West, close associates predicted he may soon stump the country by train to build fires under congressmen bucking the administration program.

Congressional reverses piled up last week against the administration. Coalitions between Republicans and Southern Democrats in both houses put the whole Truman program in doubt.

A Senate committee pigeonholed Mr. Truman's nomination of his personal friend, Mon C. Wallgren, as chairman of the National Security Resources Board.

Triumphant "Rebel" Yells.

Dixie Democratic senators scorned the first compromises offered by Truman lieutenants to end the filibuster. Triumphant southerners, who kept the talk fest going since February 28, dropped it at 11 p. m. Tuesday to accept a Republican compromise defeating filibuster curbs.

The filibuster lasted 55 hours, 45 minutes, nowhere near a record. But Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La) set an all time individual non-stop mark when he spoke Monday for 12 hours and 20 minutes. Others have held the floor longer but they were assisted by quorum calls and interruptions.

The House approved a 15-month extension for rent controls but with a "home rule" provision giving states, counties and even towns the right to lift controls whenever they wish.

This was a severe blow to administration prestige. House Democratic leaders were against the "home rule" idea, wanted a two-year instead of a 15-month extension, and sought greater powers to enforce rent controls.

Heads for Senate.

The bill, passed 261 to 153 by the House, goes to the Senate where administration men will renew the fight. Action on a Senate version had been blocked because of the filibuster.

As for local option on rent controls, Tighe Woods, federal rent administrator, thought it might not work out too badly.

"I would be willing to bet," he said, "that 90 per cent of the 1,100 counties where we have rent control will not lift it under this amendment."

At Home

Those Tax Returns.

The men who follow up the federal income tax collector had a busy time last year. Whether they will be busier in 1949 depends on how many mistakes you made on the final returns that flooded the mails last Tuesday.

Treasury Secretary Snyder, somewhat of a philosopher, recognizes that no one likes to pay taxes.

"With 55,000,000 persons making income tax returns each year," Snyder says, "it is not uncommon to find numerous mistakes due to faulty arithmetic, carelessness, unfamiliarity with procedure, and similar factors."

Snyder's check-up men in the Internal Revenue Bureau collected a record total of $2,235,882,110 in extra taxes and penalties in 1948.

* * *

Jobs Tighten Up.

If you're out of work, it's going to be tougher to get another job if you're a man than a woman. On the average, that is.

The Census Bureau says it takes men an average of nine weeks to find a job against an average of six and one-half weeks for women.

These are February statistics, the latest available. In February it took the average unemployed American eight and one-half weeks to find a new job. That was tougher than January when the average was seven and three-quarter weeks.

Neither sex is finding the job market as rosy as in early post-war months.

* * *

The Two-Edged Sword.

Some psychologists wonder if the cold war and talk about atomic bombs aren't frightening more Americans than Russians. Therefore, the government is going to tell the public more about the so-called super secret weapons.

Many Americans are overconfident, too. They believe that victory in any war would be certain for this country because of the atomic bomb, alone. That, the experts say, isn't necessarily so.

A government book about atomic bombs will be issued within a few months. It is being prepared by the Atomic Energy Commission now.

Abroad

Uncertain Peace.

Almost a month ago an Israeli-Egyptian truce was signed on the island of Rhodes under auspices of Dr. Ralph Bunche, the United Nations acting mediator for Palestine. King Farouk thus became the first Arab ruler to recognize the Jewish state. On March 11, Trans-Jordan signed a cease-fire pact for the whole Palestine front.

But the quiet which settled over the Holy Land is tense. There were developments last week that strained the paper truce and may yet reduce it to a scrap of paper.

* * *

Miraculous Mud.

The Soviet journal Ogonek reports that a "Lake of Life" has been discovered in the Ural mountains.

The lake bottom reportedly is composed of a miraculous medical mud which heals patients bed-ridden for years with joint and nerve ailments. After only one or two treatments patients get up and walk right out of the hospital.

The lake bottom is said to made up of sapropelic (animal organisms) mud, permeated by decaying organic ooze deposited for centuries.

Local peasants discovered its healing qualities but it came to official notice only recently when a small local sanatorium was established to treat wounded war veterans.

The Soviet government now has decided to build a state sanatorium there.

* * *

Alphabet Argument.

They almost changed the book last week. The spelling book that some Britons never completely mastered. The house of commons saved the King's English by a whisker or—to be precise—by three votes.

After debating five hours, Commons turned down, 87 to 84, a bill to reform the whole English spelling system.

Laborite Mont Follick wanted an alphabet of 23 letters instead of 26. He would have done away with Q, Y and Z. Everything would be phonetic, every letter and combination of letters standing for the same sound all the time.

George Tomlinson, minister of government was against the bill. "It would mean the whole literature of this country would have to be rewritten," he declared.

Quotes

Prime Minister Louis S. Laurent of Canada, supporting the proposed North Atlantic security pact: "We can win the war against war much more cheaply than we can win a third world war."

Lev Berg, president of the Soviet Geographical Society: "Any solution of the question of sovereignty in the Antarctic without participation of the Soviet Union can have no legal validity, since the U. S. S. R. has every ground for not recognizing such a decision."

In Short

Ended: By Britain, clothes rationing, after nine years.

Won: By 1,000,000 non-operating railroad workers, a 40-hour week for the same pay they now get for 48 hours.

Scheduled: The North Atlantic Security Alliance, completed after months of negotiation, for signing at Washington the first week in April.

Attained: By the United States, its largest peacetime National Guard in history: 329,614 officers and enlisted men.

DeWitt Mackenzie's Column

Importance of Israel

AFTER the signing of the armistice between warring Egypt and Israel on February 24, this column remarked of the new Jewish state that we likely were witnessing the beginning of another important power.

This has brought from a student of international affairs in the state of Washington the request for an amplification. He wants to know "why"—and that's a fair question.

What I said previous was this:

"And what of the future for the new Israel? Predictions are dangerous but this column is going to make one. As I read the signs, Israel is heading for a dominant position in the affairs of the strategic Middle East. We likely are witnessing the beginning of another important power."

What is the basis for such an idea? Well, in the first place the Jewish race is endowed with an extraordinary amount of determination. That determination is directed towards a spiritual goal: The creation—or better, the re-creation—of the homeland for which the Jewish people have yearned these 2,000 years.

I've been watching this crusade at close range ever since the Balfour Declaration of 1917, projecting a Jewish national home in Palestine. The amount of energy, self-sacrifice and never-say-die resolution displayed has been amazing. I've seen it not only in Palestine but among the Jewish people of many countries of both hemispheres, especially among the displaced people of Europe since the war.

So in the first place we have the unconquerable determination essential to the building of a new nation. However, there exists not only this spiritual urge but the willingness to implement it with sacrifice and labor, and if necessary, with life itself, as the recent warfare has shown.

* * *

Determined To Succeed.

EQUALLY important, the refugees and pioneers who have been flocking to Palestine are bringing with them the culture of many nations. Thus Israel is rapidly acquiring a population which perhaps is unique among pioneer countries.

This then is the human nucleus of the new Jewish homeland. Back of it stands the financial and moral support of millions of Jews who already are happily absorbed into other countries. We see this support demonstrated daily, for there are no people who stand together closer in time of stress than do the Jews.

So much for the human element. As for Palestine it is small and has been regarded as poor in resources. However, science holds out promises of turning great tracts of the now sandy wastes into fertile fields.

And under the Negev desert there are said to be mineral deposits and petroleum. Industry too can find its place.

All these things go to make up the new Israel—but they don't necessarily form the basis of an important power in themselves. Why then should we expect this little state to move into a place of importance among great nations?

The answer is that Palestine occupies a key position in the big Middle East zone which forms a land bridge between three continents—Europe, Asia and Africa.

The Middle East is of tremendous strategic importance militarily, and it contains vast wealth in the form of petroleum. It is vital to control of the eastern Mediterranean and the Suez canal.

Farmer's Diary

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

TURN TO JOEL 3:10

HERE'S a new perspective on agriculture in the world-war age! Arthur P. Chew, in a book which he calls "Plowshares into Swords", (Harper's, $3) says that modern war is war for farms and the way to stop wars is to make a world-balance between industry and agriculture. As to how, once again that is the $64 question!

I'll confess, to begin with, that economics is the most confusing subject I have ever grappled with. But the very bigness of Mr. Chew's outlook—he has been with USDA during the farm-adjustment program following World War I and the response of American agriculture to demands of World War II—makes his views interesting. Although I cannot see that he has offered any practical program to implement his ideas.

The struggle for farms to balance the factories is the cause of wars. Industries require agriculture as a basic resource. Industrial nations become warmakers when their agricultural base becomes too narrow to support their factory-working population.

Agricultural nations are notably more peaceable, but their problem is to keep themselves from becoming overrun by mechanized neighbors.

Mr. Chew would have the agricultural countries move slowly toward industrialization — as seems to be going on naturally and nationally now in our southern states — and he would have the over-industrialized nations reduce their unbalanced condition by emigration, until the whole world was in economic balance, and depended upon each other sufficiently to make war impracticable.

A world economy, instead of a nationalistic one. Mr. Chew claims, would make us safe. He admits that there would be pinching in some places and chafing in others before the shoe could be made to fit. But he thinks that wars are caused by materialistic and economic maladjustments, rather than by conflicts of ideals. He most valiantly has expressed his convictions.

"Plowshares into swords". . ." "swords into plowshares". There must be a vital connection, for the Bible has it both ways. . . See Joel 3:10, also Isaiah 2;4.

Repeal of Prohibition In Kansas Will Change Ideas of Geography

AFTER 69 YEARS Kansas has repealed its bone dry law. Passengers on Santa Fe trains will get a new understanding of geography. When the grog was locked up during the all-day crossing of Kansas the idea got around that it was twice as wide as Texas.

Hospitalized Vets Give Lesson In Courage By Fight for Recovery

A SUDDEN BLOT in the brain struck down an elderly civil engineer at the peak of his career.

The stroke left him bed-ridden, voiceless, hopeless.

In time he came—on a stretcher—to the Manhattan Beach Veterans' hospital in Brooklyn. He found company there among its "forgotten men," graduates of the first and second World war with ailments so serious their recovery chances were doubtful?

And he found women there who were willing to spend endless time to help him find his voice again. They were volunteer gray ladies from the Brooklyn chapter of the Red Cross.

They took him into a small room for treatment of victims of aphasia, the loss or impairment of speech that comes from certain illnesses and brain injuries.

"He would get hysterical and weep," recalled Miss Elizabeth Kelly, one of the gray ladies.

The engineer watched morosely as Miss Kelly and Florence Conklin, another volunteer, held up small cards on which words had been printed. He saw other patients pronounce anew the words — "book," "bird," "cat".

There was a young combat veteran who had been struck by Shrapnel. He learned 400 words in a year. There was little Frankie, a veteran of the first war who learned to walk after being paralyzed for 12 years.

Frankie, the hospital's best morale builder, inched on tortured feet to the engineer, as he did to all the other patients, and mumbled to him through a thick tongue:

"Fight! Fight! Fight!"

And gradually the engineer summoned up the will to try—to fight to overcome the damage wrong by the hidden enemy in him, a broken blood vessel. There was nothing wrong with his intelligence. He could still understand. He could still read. But he couldn't even pronounce his own name.

Word by word the engineer worked to recover his spoken vocabulary. Miss Kelly and Miss Conklin worked with him alternately, week after week, as long as his strength permitted.

Recently the engineer passed a milestone on his road to recovery. He turned to Miss Conklin and said unexpectedly:

"I'm going home for Easter."

Only five words—but they were the first complete sentence he had spoken in more than two years. And the engineer will be home for Easter, able to talk in some degree with his family.

"I've seen some wonderful things happen here," said Miss Kelly, a retired school teacher. And she and the other gray ladies have helped them to happen.

"What do these people here have to do to get well?" An attendant asked Frankie as he sat down for a lesson.

"Fight! Fight! Fight!" said the gray-haired little veteran. It is the word he says most often because it has kept him alive and hopeful.

Sometime, if you think the world has kicked you around, go out to a veterans hospital—and get a lesson in courage.

GOP Defend Payment of $7,500 Fee

Democrats Say They're 'Amazed'

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Republicans said today it was "perfectly legitimate" for the GOP national committee to have footed a $7,500 bill for wording half of the disputed Taft-Hartley law.

Democrats said they were "amazed."

The inside story of the payment was unfolded for the first time yesterday by Gerald D. Morgan, Washington lawyer and the man who got the money for helping to write the Hartley bill, a House measure which became part of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Morgan told the story of a House labor subcommittee. Under Democratic bombardment Morgan said he was not an author of the law, merely a "technician." He said Republican congressman supplied the ideas and policy and he supplied the proper legal language.

Testifying in a husky voice, Morgan said he is not now and "I never have been" employed by the National Association of Manufacturers.

Labor leaders and many democrats have said the Taft-Hartley law, especially the Hartley bill passed by the House in 1947, was written by the NAM.

Morgam said he is a Democrat, so political reasons didn't account for his employment as a special counsel for Republican members of the House labor committee in 1947.

Morgan told the subcommittee he was hired to help draw up the Hartley bill in January, 1947. He said the question of how he was to be paid was left up in the air.

Finally, several months after the Taft-Hartley bill became law, he said he was paid for his work—in installments—by the Republican National Committee through the "good offices" of Rep. Halleck (R-Ind).

Rep. McConnell (R-Penn) said he wouldn't have been surprised at a $25,000 fee. He said Morgan is a man of high principle, intelligence and character.

Defending the law he helped prepare, Morgan said it was "a great deal of merit—and I believe intensely that it's repeal would constitute a tremendous blow to the cause of true liberalism."

Clerk's Office Gets New Lights

Fluorescent lights have been installed in the back room of the clerk of court's office where all the law records of common pleas court are kept.

Clerk of Courts Howard Wenning said the new lights were installed by the National Electric company. The estimated cost was between $200 and $225. Wenning said he is paying for the new lights out of his stationery and supplies appropriation.

Raps Love Of Money

Rev. Jack Shuler, leader of evangelistic services being held nightly at Johnny Appleseed auditorium told his audience last night, "Jesus never made a tirade against money, it was against the abuse of money, the love of which is the root of all evil."

Rev. Shuler used as his subject the parable of the Rich Fool.

He warned his audience no one can break his appointment with death and told them they should prepare to meet God after death.

Harry Clark, song leader, sang one of his own compositions, "The Savior Is Calling for You," and directed the choir in singing "Sunrise."

Tonight, young people's night, Rev. Shuler will speak on "The Man Who Got His Haircut In the Wrong Barber Shop."

There will be two evangelis services at Johnny Appleseed auditorium Sunday. At a mass meeting at 2:30 p. m. Rev. Shuler will indict the liquor traffic as America's outstanding saboteur. His subject will be "Is Liquor In Mansfield to Stay?"

At 7:30 p. m. Sunday the evangelist will dramatize the crucifixion of Christ, using the subject, "History's Horror Picture."

Monday evening will be Sunday school night. A prize will be given to the Sunday school having the greatest percentage of its enrollment present at the service.

Willard Business Man Dies In Yard

WILLARD—Earl G. Youngs, 57, for the past 22 years in the real estate and insurance business here, was stricken fatally with a heart attack at 9:30 a. m, today in the yard of his home at 603 Euclid avenue. Born in Attica, Mr. Youngs came here as a young boy to acquire his education. At the time of his death he was a partner in the Youngs and DeVoe Real Estate and Insurance company.

Surviving are his widow, Ella; two daughters, Mrs. Dale Stearns of Willard and Mrs. James Langhurst of Columbus; two step children, Evelyn Huffman of Tampa, Fla., and Gerald Huffman of Boughtonville, O., and four grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Fink funeral home here.

Cast of 10 Seniors To Present Comedy

Ten Senior high school students are going to step out of their roles as book-learners March 30 and 31 and present to their parents and friends a "let's pretend" performance in the school auditorium.

The change-over into the world of imagination will be their parts in the Broadway success, "Personal Appearance," a Brock Pemberton production that has been a hit for a long time.

Under the direction of Earl Heasley, dramatics teacher, and Miss Martha Eckert, speech teacher at Senior high, the pupils will present the story of the spoiled Broadway actress, whose car breaks down in the lonely Pennsylvania countryside and who can't resist flirting with every good-looking man who crosses her path.

She flirts with two young men who run a filling station in the nearest town. There is much resentment on the part of the fiancee of one of the young men and a lot of amusing complications before the actress goes on her way for another "personal appearance."

Audrey McCoy takes the part of the actress; Charles Brown plays her business manager who tries to keep her from casting eyes at every young man she sees. Dave Stanton is the hometown boy who almost succumbs to her charms; Betty Erickson is the fiancee who registers jealousy, and Jean A. Robinson the Aunt Kate whose influence has much to do with straightening out the tangle.

Others in the cast are Tina Taylor, Gizella Knefely, Harry McCune, Philip Pendleton and Jane VanTilburg.

The stage crew will include Raymond Stretch, Richard Schroeder, Orlo Smith jr., James Smith, Donald Hart and Jed Hermes.

In addition to the evening performance for adults on March 31, there will be a student assembly of the play on March 30. Tickets may be obtained from the high school students.

Veteran Employes To Dine Tuesday

The Westinghouse Employe Veterans association will hold its annual dinner at the plant Tuesday evening, O. I. Alverson, president of the employes organization, announced today.

Retired pensioners of the plant have been invited to attend the affair by Maurice Stretch, secretary of the group. Entertainment has been arranged by Vice President Andrew Stash.

Denies Theft Of Chickens

Hugh Daugherty, 31, Columbus, who, after his car was struck by a passenger train, was accused of stealing a coop of 16 chickens from a Shelby farmer, entered a plea of innocent today in municipal court.

The hearing was continued to next Tuesday by Municipal Judge H. H. Schettler. Daugherty was lodged in county jail when he failed to provide bond set at $3,000. He was charged with burglary of an unoccupied building.

William H. Hursch, of near Shelby, identified 10 chickens from wing bands after Daugherty's car was struck by a Pennsylvania passenger train at a grade crossing near Shelby last Wednesday.

The accident cost the life of Daugherty's companion, James Richardson, 47, of Columbus.

Union county authorities have asked permission to identify Daugherty in connection with several chicken and livestock thefts in that county.

Vets Protest Hospital Cut

Mansfield Disabled American Veterans Chapter 21 today prepared petitions protesting reduction of the Veterans' Administration hospital program by 16,000 beds, Commander Walter Bogantz said.

The organization will meet tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. at the DAV club rooms on North Walnut street, to make plans for circulating the petitions.

The protest will be sent to President Truman, Congress, and to the VA in Washington, Bogantz said.

Plans for a softball team sponsored by the DAV chapter for this summer also will be made, and any interested ball player has been requested to contact Dave Cameron at the DAV club rooms.

BARN HUNTING —

Anybody got an old barn they don't want? The Mansfield Little Theater is looking for a barn to remodel to use as a workshop. Maple Grove school in Madison township has been used for building sets, but the Madison school board is taking over that school to use for storing equipment. The board's equipment now is kept in the Beer and Hickory Hall schools which are to be sold. However, Olan LaRue, Madison superintendent of schools, said it would probably be May 1 before the two schools can be disposed of and the Little Theater may use the Maple Grove school until that time.

Claims Housing 'Acute'

U. S. Senate To Act Soon

COLUMBUS—(UP)—Rent controls must not be lifted in Ohio at the present time, Gov. Frank J. Lausche declared today.

Lausche took this stand because he saw an "acute" shortage in housing in the state as congress considered a bill which would allow states to remove all controls on rents and evictions.

It was the second time the Democratic chief executive has been faced with the problem of what would happen to Ohioans if rents were decontrolled. Lausche called the legislature into special session in 1946 when it appeared that congress might not re-enact a rent control law.

"I am firm in the belief that while the housing and shortage is somewhat reduced it is still acute," Lausche said.

★

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rent control backers, rushing to meet a March 31 deadline, predicted today the Senate will swiftly approve a 12 to 15-month extension which could be junked by the states.

The present federal rent law expires at the end of this month. The measure to extend them, which came from the banking committee Thursday, is up for Senate debate Monday.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.), who will manage the bill on the floor, said he expects it to pass probably Tuesday night." That would leave just nine days to iron out differences with the House, which has passed a bill somewhat at odds with the Senate version.

Democratic leader Lucas (Ill.) also predicted the Senate bill's passage in about its present form. So did Senator Tobey (NH) top-ranking Republican on the banking committee.

Tobey said he will not press his plan to hold a rent control extension to six months. "We now have a better bill than any we have had yet," he said.

The Senate bill would allow rent increases of up to 10 per cent — provided that such increases don't bring total bosts since June 30, 1947, to more than 15 per cent. It also would allow state legislatures to decontrol states or any part of them or take over the entire program.

OHIO FORECAST: Partly cloudy, continued cold with a few snow flurries today; fair and cold again tonight.

Probationer Sent to Pen

A 30-year-old man placed on probation last Feb. 18, was sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary Friday afternoon by Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, after he was accused by police of burglaries committed two weeks later, on March 4.

The man is Walter Leroy Phillips, of 335 Cedar street, who had been put on five years probation on breaking and entering charges when he pleaded guilty.

Phillips, in court yesterday, admitted the March 4 burglaries and received a one-to-15-year sentence when the probation was revoked by the the court.

The latest burglaries occurred at the J. E. Hall Distributing company, 53 Surry road, and at the Economy Coal company, 36 Surry road, police said. Property valued at $18 and $3 in cash was reported stolen from the distributing company.

A second man charged in the Hall burglary Billy George Ewald, of 316 North Main, was bound over to the grand jury in municipal court March 4. He was unable to make $2.000 bond and is held in the county jail. Both pleaded innocent in municipal court.

Park Board Buys New Truck for $1,378

The city park board awarded a contract for a new half-ton pickup truck to R. E. Moorhead, Inc., at a meeting yesterday

The Ford truck will cost the city $1378.40. The contract did not stipulate a delivery date, but a company spokesman said delivery would be made sometime next week.

Switch to Steel Not So Simple

Getting steel auto license plates in 1950 may not be so easy, after all, Warden Ralph W. Alvis of the Ohio penitentiary said today.

Production of the 1950 plates, made by penitentiary inmates, already is under way and alumninum is being used. Alvis said.

Unless steel is available soon, the alumninum tags, with which Gov. Frank J. Lausche is "dissatisfied", will continue to be made the warden added.

The governor yesterday said he would ask that steel be used in the 1950 plates because the alumninum tags are too fragile.

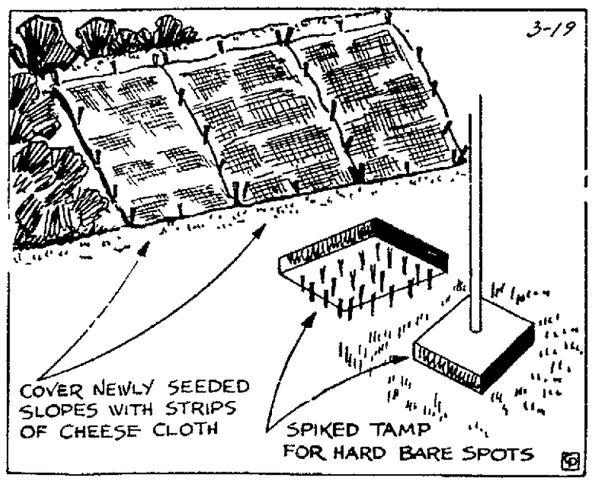
Spring Lawn Care Important



By DEAN HALLIDAY
(By Central Press)

The care given to the lawn in the spring reflects in its appearance the balance of the year

An established lawn should be raked early in the spring to remove twigs, dead leaves, grass and litter Dead leaves rolled into the lawn will smother young grass

Feed the lawn with a complete plant food If a chemical fertilizer is used spread 25 to 40 pounds to every 1,000 square feet If using an organic turf builder use 40 to 50 pounds to every 1 000 square feet Spread just before a rain or follow the feeding with a thorough soaking from the hose

Thin lawns and bare spots should be reseeded as early as possible Before seeding spots that have become hard packed, loosen and open the soil with a spiked tamp as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph This treatment gives the seed a chance to get in and take hold To make such a tamp, drive spikes through a 2-inch plank

Rolling should not be done until all danger of alternate freezing and thawing is past Never roll when the soil is wet or soggy but wait until it is moderately moist Have the roller only heavy enough to firm back any grass which has heaved up

If you plan to establish lawn on a terrace or sloping ground remember that a newly seeded slope will wash away before roots develop to hold the soil unless you cover it with strips of cheesecloth as illustrated Stake the cloth down and remove when the grass begins to pierce the mesh

Plans Sale Of Schools

Madison Board To Offer Buildings

Action has been taken by the Madison township board of education for the sale of two of the township's abandoned schools—Beer school on US Route 30 and Hickory Hall school on Lucas road.

Both schools were closed when their pupils were transferred to the East Mansfield school. Pupils from Beer school were transferred in January and those from Hickory Hall about two years ago.

The township owns both the school and the grounds at the Beer school location but only the school building at Hickory Hall. According to the deed, the grounds were supposed to revert to the Campbell heirs, but there seems to be some dispute as to ownership, Olan LaRue, superintendent of Madison township schools, said today.

However, since only the sale of the school will concern the Madison township school board, purchaser of the school and grounds will have to untangle the matter of ownership, LaRue said.

Hickory Hall school has been used for storage of school equipment. Now the Maple Grove school southeast of Mansfield will be used for that purpose and the other two schools will be sold for funds to add to the current building program.

It is expected that arrangements will be ready for a sale of the two schools about May 1.

If the Lincoln Heights school is completed by next fall, then another township school, the Terman school, also will be closed. Pupils from the Little Washington school will be transferred to the Woodville school when the new addition is completed there, LaRue said.

4 Cubs Get Scout Badges

Four boys of Cub Pack 7 received their "Webelos" badges Wednesday night at a meeting at Woodland school and became full-fledged Boy Scouts. The four were Robert and Hugh Welch, James Fitzsimmons and James Crall.

In addition to Webelos badges, a group of cubs received their merit awards. The group includes James Kolb, Dick Stroop, Ronald Moore, Larry Linton, Stephen Clemens, Charles Cunning, John Keinath, George Evans, Ted Wharton, David Black, Otis Cummins jr., John Siegenthaler, Jay Stephens, David Bourns, David Spayde, Michael Mihalick, Jack Ward, Gerald Horsman, Charles Kindle and David Guiher.

Parents watched the presentation of the awards by Fred Crall, scout master.

An exhibition of kites, in preparation for spring flying, was on display last night.

LEGAL NOTICE

Three Records Fall In Meet

CLEVELAND — (U.P.) — Three new meet records are in the books today after old marks were broken in the pole vault and the college divisions of the mile and two mile relays at the ninth annual Knight of Columbus track meet at the arena last night.

Richmond (Boo) Marcom of New Hampshire made the jump of his life as he cleared the bar at 14 feet, nine inches to better his old mark of 14 feet, 7⅞ inches. It was the best jump of the indoor season and gave the crowd of 7,226 fans their top thrill of the night.

Middlecoff, Harrison Tied

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., — (UP) — Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., and Dutch Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., shared the lead at the start of the second round today in the $10,000 Jacksonville open golf tournament.

Both golfers proved to be good "mudders" as they battled high winds and a sweeping rain to plod through the first 18 holes with six-under-par 66's yesterday.

Skee Riegel of Tulsa and Dalè Andreason of Glen View, Ill., tied for third with 67's, while Dave Douglas of Wilmington, Del., Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill. and Frank Kiraly of Jacksonville followed with 68's.

Oklahoma A&M In NCAA Finals

KANSAS CITY, MO. — (UP) — Oklahoma A and M's rangy cowpokes, seeking their third national championship in the past five years, were favored to defeat Oregon State tonight in the western regional finals of the N. C. A. A. Basketball tournament.

The Aggies, champions of the midlands, reached the western finals by eliminating Wyoming's skyline six titleholders, 40 to 39, last night. Oregon State, Pacific coast conference champion, made it by trimming Artives, 56 to 38, on a strong rally in the second half.

Hamilton Sweeps By Middletown

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Ohio's high school cagers swing into regional championship games today with the most unusual 16-team cast in history.

The Class A contingent has one unbeaten club, Lakewood; two Catholic schools, Toledo Central and Akron St. Vincent; three "Cinderella" outfits in Mansfield, Niles and Struthers which have lost a total of 28 games, and a couple of "solid" representatives in Lancaster and Hamilton Public.

Over in Class B, the clubs have better records. North Canton, only team left of the eight qualifiers for last year's state meet, has the worst percentage with six defeats in 27 starts. Pacing that pack is little Salem Township of Wyandot county, with 28 in a row, but three other teams, Lockland Wayne, New Lexington and New Vienna have been beaten once.

Class B boasts one Catholic entry in Delphos St. John, and one all-Negro school in Lockland Wayne.

Winners of tonight's frays qualify for the state finals here next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Pairings will be made at 11 a. m. Sunday in the offices of Commissioner H. W. Emswiler.

No one was guessing today on the outcome of tonight's contests, after some resounding upsetting of the dope bucket in last night's games.

In Class B the semi-final regionals went practically according to the form sheet, but in Class A the results were startling.

The top upset was furnished by Struthers with a 45-44 win over Garfield Heights. The Heights quintet had rolled up 22 straight victories for the No. 1 record in the circuit, while Struthers, beaten 12 times in 21 starts, had the poorest performance wrapped up. But when the smoke cleared away, Struthers was still in the tourney and Garfield Heights was out.

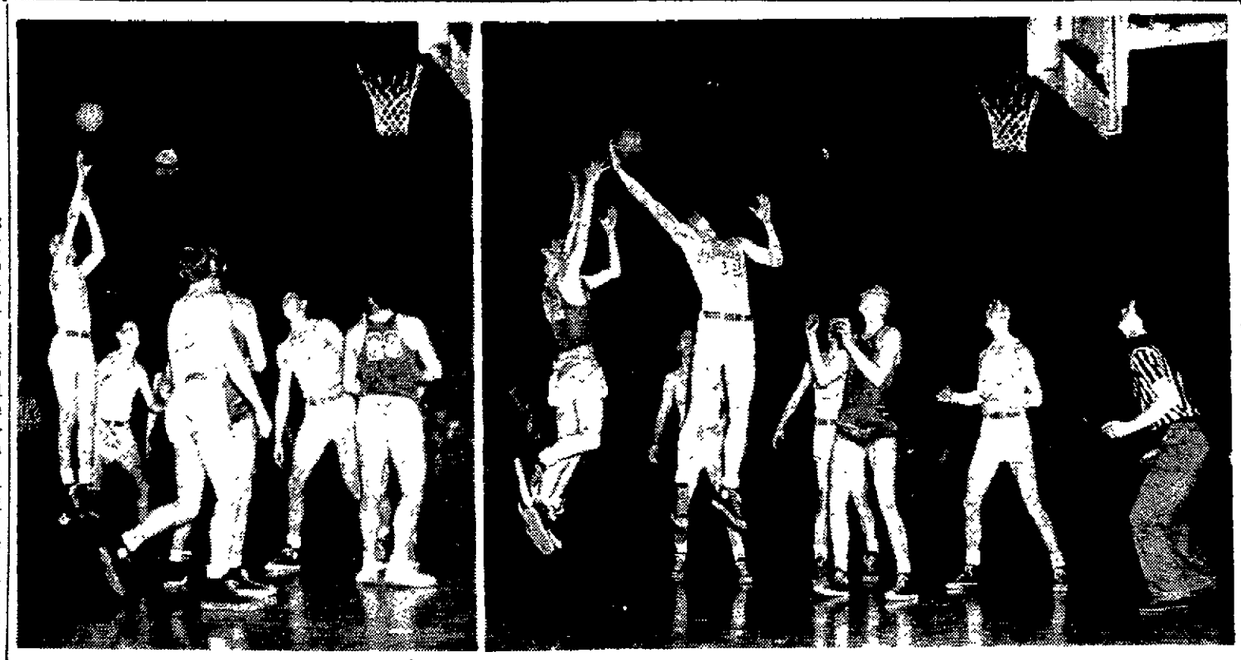
Another surprise was the huge margin in Toledo Central Catholic's 61-30 win over Columbus Central. The Capital City crew had dropped only one of 25 games, while Central Catholic had been whipped three times, once in the sectional tourney, once in the city league, and once by Delphos St. John, one of the Class B survivors.

Niles, which failed to break even during the regular campaign, and which had won only 11 of 20 including the preliminary tournaments, ousted New Philadelphia 49-46. New Philly, the 1940 state champ, had won 16 and lost five betore the Niles upset.

Lakewood retained its unbeaten status by getting its 19th in a row with a 39-28 win over once-defeated Cleveland Central. Down at Cincinnati those old rivals, Hamilton Public and Middletown, tangled for the third time this year, and Hamilton won for the third time by a 41-36 count. That tosses the Big Blue into the finals against Lancaster, which boasts the best defensive average in the state along with a potent offense.

Class B Lockland Wayne showed plenty of power in ousting Hollansburg 67 to 39, and now once-beaten New Vienna gets a crack at the Lockland club which is favored to grab the statewide crown.

Of the 16 teams still in the race, only three have ever won the Ohio laurels. Mansfield won the opener in 1909, Hamilton copped the Class A championship in 1937, and North Canton was ruler of the "B" domain in 1939



WE TRAILED—THEN SHIBINSKI—Big Norb Shibinski demonstrates at right just why Mansfield eked out a 50-43 victory last night. At left, in the first half, Kenny McCally shoots to bring Mansfield from its biggest deficit, shown on the scoreboard as 18-13, but in the other picture Shibinski was in form as the Tygers led 36-35. The big center was a bear on the rebounds throughout the entire second half.—(News-Journal photos by Jim Switzer)

Invitational Finals Are Set Tonight

By JOHN BARRINGTON

NEW YORK — (INS) — Loyola of Chicago is a slight favorite over the San Francisco Dons in the final of the national invitation basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Possibly the reason for installing the Chicago Ramblers as the choice in this clash of two Cinderella teams is the fact that they were the only favorite to win earlier in the week.

Another reason may be that Jack Kerris, Loyola's big man is figured to be more consis- high scorer of the Dons. Kerris is the tourney's high scorer to date with 64 points. Lofgran has tallied 55.

Regardless of either reason, San Francisco's coach, Pete Newell, was tickled pink that his team is not the favorite. No mentor in this dark horse derby relishes that tag.

In earlier games both set up offensive and defensive patterns that stopped their rivals from playing their usual type of basketball.

The consolation opener between the two semi-final losers finds Bowling Green rated at six points over Bradley.

Georgian Shows No Hospitality

AUGUSTA, GA. — (UP) — Dot Kirby of Atlanta and Peggy Kirk of Findlay, O., who have matched leading cards during the first half of the women's title holders golf tournament, today were threatened by a late rush from Louise Suggs, the Lithia Springs par-buster.

The Misses Kirby and Kirk reached the end of the second round yesterday tied with 36-hole cards of 151 each. But Miss Suggs attracted the most attention, firing a 34 for the first nine holes—two under men's par—and winding up with a 72, par for men. She has 152.

Pesek Quits Bucyrus High

BUCYRUS — Al Pesek resigned today as coach at Bucyrus high school to accept similar post at Hiram college. Pesek was both football and basketball coach here and will hold the same positions at Hiram.

He succeeds Steve Belichick who followed his former college coach, Bill Edwards to Vanderbilt.

Pesek had an unbeaten football team at Bucyrus last fall and his basketball team this year lost only one regular season game.

Mat 'Murder' Scheduled for Armory Ring

There's 'murder' in the air today. Mat murder, that is.

It's all scheduled tonight in the Ashland road armory when Clete Kauffman stages his second Mansfield wrestling program at 8:30. Last week, Kauffman brought professional grappling back to Mansfield before a "standing room only crowd."

He promises more seats in the armory tonight.

The villain of the piece, Whitey Whittler, will be back but is ticketed to meet Karol Krauser, a 244-pound Polish giant, who is also some shakes as a "rough" guy. They will battle in the one-hour main event.

Colliding in the 45-minute semi-final will be Stacy Hall, the Columbus city detective, and Benny Trudell, a slam-bang artist. Hall has always been a favorite with Mansfield grunt and groan audiences.

The tough in the opener is Jim Wright, a big gent from Glendale, Cal. He will meet Ronnie Etchison, a Missouri product.

Aggies Touted As Top Team

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — (UP) — It was the Oklahoma Aggies against the field as the NCAA western playoffs get under way tonight in Municipal auditorium before an expected capacity crowd of near 10,000 persons.

The Cowpokes foreman, Hank Iba, was sending another great defensive machine into the fray and to Ev Sheltons Wyoming team, winner in the mountains, went the task of facing the Oklahomans.

In tonight's second game, it will be the Oregon State Beavers against Arkansas, representing the southwest district. The winners meet tomorrow night.

4 Honor Roll Scores Fired In 5 Leagues

Four men cracked the honor roll in last night's bowling, three of them in the Moose league on the Colony lanes.

Phil Warga led the way with a 220-210-213—643. John Bernat came in with 608 and John Leppo just made the mark with an even 600.

Other scores in the league included: H. Uplinger 587, Art Hilborn 582, Hal Robinson 565, M. Rohal 561, and Jim McPherson 545.

★

Helen Wilhelm of Urschel Insurance topped Women's Commercial B league bowlers with a 550 score. Billy Cleckner, Ingram-Martin, came in with 541, Kate Warga 527 and Mary Dintamin 501.

Gay Nineties stretched its league lead to seven games as it registered the only sweep over Saprano's Bar.

★

Vincent Kutchell tossed a 541 series to set the pace in the Independent league. Bob Simpson was runner-up with 514, while Jim Cunningham got 505 and Leo Saltzgaber and Steve Mansfield even 500's.

J. Polem concocted the fourth honor roll score of the night with a 603 in the Westinghouse D circuit. He put together games of 165, 214, and 224 for the score.

Lou Tridico came in second with 573, H. Dowds took 547, and Nick Komjenovich, 535.

★

Gene Rudolph led Barnes Manufacturing bowlers over the Richland slides with a 558 pin count. J. Rhoads tallied 554 in that circuit and Walker 545.

Oma, Down In First, Throws Hat In the Ring

NEW YORK — (AP) — Lee Oma, says "count me in" in the heavyweight picture.

The 33-year old heavy, who has kicked opportunity in the face time after time in an erratic 10-year career, toyed with one Omelio Agramonte last night in Madison Square Garden.

By copping the unanimous decision after being floored for nine in the first round, Oma stretched his victory string to six in his latest comeback campaign.

"Look, I can lick Joey Maxim and Maxim gave Ezzard Charles a close fight," Oma said. "I can beat any of those guys who want to be champion, and, you know, I might be champion at that."

Talks Over Job

PORTLAND, ORE., — (AP) — Forrest Evashevaski, Michigan State backfield coach, arrived here last night for a talk with Oregon State college officials on the O.S.C. football coaching job.

Big Norb Sets Pace With 13

68 to 46, and in the district it smashed Bellevue, 74 to 43.

The whole story of last night's game can be wrapped up in one sentence. The Tygers just couldn't pry the lid off the baskets. They shot more times than in any other game this season and easily put together their worst percentage from the court and from the free throw line. Only in the first quarter did the Tygers shoot anything near their mark of previous tournament games.

In that stanza Mansfield made six of 17 shots but trailed, 16 to 13. The shooting didn't get better but the Tygers attempted more shots and managed to lead through most of the remainder of the contest. Senior high was in the van at the half, 23 to 22 and ahead as the fourth quarter started, 36 to 35.

Mansfield counted four of 28 shots in the second period, five of 24 in the third and six of 22 in the fourth. That made a total of 21 in 91 for the game. Bowling Green which didn't have much but determination tossed home 15 of 51 shots. Many were off balance heaves but they connected frequently to keep the Falcons in the running until the late Tyger surge.

During the course of the battle, if it could be called that, the score was tied eight times and the lead changed hands on 10 occasions.

BEEGEES LEAD

The teams fought on even terms until late in the first quarter when Bowling Green picked up eight points in a stretch to Mansfield's pair. The BG's increased the margin to 18-13 at the start of the second quarter but Ken McCally hit from the foul line and Paul Ferguson dribbled the length of the floor to cage a bunny shot and pare the margin to 18-16. Bowling Green moved back in front 20 to 16 but the Tygers finally caught fire.

Norb Shibinski dropped one in on a fast break and McCally, followed with a free toss. Ed Demyan banged one in from down under and Jimmy Anderson sent home a one-hander to give Mansfield a 23-20 lead.

From this on until the closing minutes the game was nip and tuck. The tally was knotted three times in the early stages of the fourth quarter, at 38-38, 39-39 and 41-41. At that time the clock showed 4:16 to go.

Shibinski swished the net from under the basket and Demyan rammed in a pivot shot with three minutes left. Anderson dribbled all the way to cage a bunny and Ferguson tallied on a fast break. Demyan's gratis shot ended the Mansfield scoring but Brian Firsden hit two fouls for Bowling Green in the final five seconds.

OFF ON FOULS

From the foul line, Mansfield hit only eight of 23 tosses while Bowling Green connected on 13 of 21. Bowling Green lost Norman Mooney in the third quarter and Jim Cranker in the fourth. Demyan fouled out with five seconds to go.

Ed Schmitt provided the pleasant surprise for the Bengals. He counted three baskets and one free throw and all when they counted. He put the Tygers ahead 36-35 at the close of the third quarter with a one-hander from the corner and increased the margin at the start of the fourth period with a under-basket two-pointer. His foul shot tied the score at 39-39.

Defending Champ Two Strokes Back

SEBRING, Fla. — (AP) — Match play in the 15th annual amateur seniors golf tournament began here today with M. E. Stephens a home town product, holding the edge.

Stephens shot 74 over the Kenilworth club course yesterday for medalist honors. That was two strokes better than Allen R. Rankin of Columbus, Ohio, defending champion.

Tourney Cuff Notes

By CHARLEY STINE

Like the Cleveland Indians of last summer, Senior high's Tygers seem to face just one big one after another. Every game in tournament play is a "money game" but to fans who saw last night's regional, this is IT.

Several of Mansfield's tourney opponents have looked good on paper but slipped on the floor. Toledo Central Catholic, however, gave a first-hand glimpse last night of just what it can do.

If Toledo also folds tonight, then there can be but one conclusion: Mansfield has a team which can make any opponent look bad and need never be regarded as an underdog again.

★

The Tygers looked to be the better team all through last night's game but they couldn't prove it. Time and again they worked the ball in for nice shots and then fizzled.

The players, themselves, knew that they were off form and there was no wild celebrating in the dressing room. There was just a determined bunch of kids who knew they had been lucky to win and vowed they would never again give any team that good a chance to beat them.

Big Norb Shibinski probably sounded the keynote when Coach Vern Hoffman asked if the team wanted to stay to see all of the Toledo-Columbus game.

"Let's stay until the half and go to the hotel and get some sleep" was Norb's prompt answer. Not that he disregarded Central Catholic, but he knew the most important thing was the way Mansfield played, not the opposition.

★

Charlie Brown, the slide-rule shot statistician discovered a good luck omen of his own after the game. He was going over the game totals when the book fell to the ground. He picked it up and began to leaf from the back to find the right place.

Just three blank pages left! And he vows he didn't tear any out.

★

One motive for tonight's victory (?) is revenge. Central Catholic beat Mansfield in the finals of the 1943 regional tournament, the last time the two team met.

★

One of the wierdest shooting exhibitions ever seen was turned in by Columbus Central in the last half of last night's second ball game.

Central made its first shot—missed 39 in a row and then made its last with only 15 seconds to go.

★

Tragedy struck in the midst of Toledo Central Catholic's victory. Joe O'Donnell, a Central fan, died during the ball game in the stands after being stricken with a heart attack

His physician had reportedly warned the man going around excitement, but didn't want to miss seeing his team in action.

Tribesmen Bombard Cubs, 10-3

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Winners in five of seven exhibition tilts, including a 10 to 3 pasting of the Chicago Cubs yesterday, the world champion Cleveland Indians are now counting pitchers for an extended double team coast tour.

"I don't know how we're going to have enough pitchers ready for such a heavy schedule," said coach Bill McKechnie who is in charge of the tribe's 15-pitcher staff. "There'll be 15 games in nine days including our trip to San Francisco after we leave Los Angeles."

Manager Lou Boudreau announced a split of the team for four doubleheaders in six days in this area.

Veterans Boudréau, Joe Gordon, and Ken Keltner played most of the Chicago game in Tucson, but rookies contributed heavily to the tribe's 11-hit attack.

In the four run eighth, Herman Reich poled a 370-foot home run to score Al Rosen, who had doubled. Artie Wilson, replacing Boudreau, started the spree with a single.

Boudreau played six innings and slashed a pair of singles in two trips. The hustling frenchman also surprised all hands by booting an easy roller as his sole fielding chance.

Lefty Gene Bearden and early Wynn pitched seven-hit ball. Roy Smalley cracked a homer and two doubles to take cub hitting honors.

Bob Kennedy boomed a homer and a single to drive in three tribe runs and strengthen his bid for the right field post.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. — (UP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates will wind up their tour of northern California today and tomorrow with single games against Lefty O'Doul's San Francisco Seals.

The Bucs will return to their camp at San Bernardino in time to greet the Leo Durocher's New York Giants Monday.

The Pirates took the first of the three - game inter - league series with the Seals by a 5 to 2 count last night.

A two-run rally in the eighth inning and a home run by catcher Eddie Bockman in the ninth clinched the victory. The Bucs broke a two-all tie in the eighth when singles by pitcher Elmer Singleton, Stan Rojek and the venerable Dixie Walker drove two runs across.

CLEARWATER, FLA. — (UP) — Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phillies, who generally was regarded the top spring hitter of 1948, was well on his way today to the same distinction in 1949.

Ashburn climaxed a week of heavy hitting yesterday by smashing four singles although the Phillies bowed to Cincinnati, 9 to 8.

The Phillies tangle today with the Washington Senators, who have trimmed their squad by the outright release of pitcher Ray Garcia to Chattanooga of the southern association.

SARASOTA, FLA. — (UP) — The Boston Braves and Boston Red Sox, two clubs who have not enjoyed too much success this spring, square off against each other today in a prelude to their intracity series at home which takes place next month.

The Braves, despite two timely hits by Clint Conatser, bowed to the Cardinals, 2 to 1, yesterday, while the Red Sox were held to two hits in losing to the New York Yankees, 5 to 0.

City's Churches to Join World-Wide Relief Fund Program

Rev. Roller Heads Work In Richland

Congregations Unite to Help Needy Persons

One of the largest interdenominational projects ever undertaken by the Protestant churches of America is scheduled for Sunday, March 27, when 76,000 churches in the country join in a fund-raising program for world relief.

Mansfield's more than 50 churches will join in the project which will be launched with the nation wide broadcasting of "One Great Hour" a dramatization of the world relief needs, on Saturday, March 26 at 9 p.m.

Funds raised in this project will be administered through the regular overseas relief and rehabilitation channels of each denomination and communion. They will help to rebuild and strengthen the Christian ministry and offer material aid where it is most needed; rebuild churches, schools, homes for orphans and aged; help caring for, ministering to and re-locating the tens of thousands of displaced persons.

Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church is chairman of the project plans for Mansfield and the county.

During the past two weeks a total of 36,000.000 pieces of literature telling of the vast program have been distributed to churches across the nation.

"Never before in the history of the world have the churches of Europe and Asia been faced with greater problems and responsibilities," Rev. Roller said in telling of plans for the fund raising.

"The fate of our civilization may be in the ability of the churches and especially the churches overseas to meet their responsibilities in carrying forth the Christian ministry. This is why this nation-wide united effort by America's Christians has an importance far beyond the practical goal of fund-raising.

"This great joint program will strengthen the vitally important relief and rehabilitation work of the churches overseas and prove to all the world just how great is the power generated when Christians united in such a great common cause."

Nationally known church and laymen are on the committee in charge of arrangements and others, especially well-known, are listed as sponsors of the project.

More than 2,300 Ministerial associations have met and chosen one of their numer as representative. Rev Roller here represents the R[illegible]nd county Ministerial association in this concerted campaign.

Field Worker Due In City March 29

Miss Mildred H. Kemm, field representative of publications of the board of Christian education of the Presbyterian church, will be in Mansfield Tuesday, March 29, to confer with teachers of the First Presbyterian church Sunday school.

Miss Kemm will be in this Presbytery from March 18 to March 31. When she comes to Mansfield, each department will be notified of the time when she will confer with teachers of the department.

Jesus Trains the Twelve — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Mark 6:7-12, 30:44; Luke 11:1-4, 9-13.

Jesus called the chosen twelve apostles to Him and began to send them out two by two, giving them power over unclean spirits and instructing on what to take and how to act on the way.

After preaching, the twelve came to Jesus and told Him all the things they had done and what they had taught, and Jesus told them to come with Him to a desert place and rest a while.

When Jesus and His disciples arrived at the desert place they found that a crowd of people had gone ahead, knowing that Jesus was going to that place, and were waiting for them.

Jesus began to teach the multitude, but when it grew late, the apostles said the people should eat, but Jesus fed them all with five loaves and two fishes.

MEMORY VERSE—I Corinthians 3:9.

SPEAKS SUNDAY — One of his final sermons as district superintendent will be preached tomorrow morning by Dr. John D Greene at the First Methodist church. Dr. Greene's six-year term as head of the Mansfield district, expires the last of June, completing the limit during which a superintendent may serve. Dr. Green came to Mansfield six years ago from Berea, where he was pastor of the First Methodist church. When the conference meets in June, Dr. Greene expects to be assigned to another pastorate. The Mansfield district which he has served includes Coshocton, Delaware, Mt. Vernon, Mt. Gilead, Bucyrus, Ashland, and Mansfield and the counties of which they are county-seats.

Church Group Backing FEPC

COLUMBUS — (INS) — The Ohio Council of Churches stood solidly behind FEPC legislation today.

Dr. Donald Timerman, legislative secretary for the council, cited the approval of Fair Employment practices commission legislation given by a recent Ohio Pastors convention at Columbus as proof that the 8 000 churches represented in the council favor the bill.

The bill comes up for a vote Wednesday afternoon in the House.

Fellowship Elects

The Junior High Fellowship of the First Presbyterian church has elected David Buchanan as president of the group. Other officers are: Wilson McLean, vice president; Sally Smith secretary; Courtney Bourns, treasurer, and Audred Buchanan pianist.

This Week In Church World

Tithing Seen Aid to Peace

By NITA BRANSON
N-J Church Editor)

Looking back over two years in Mansfield church history, there are two important activities which stand out above the routine, week-by-week religious programs of city churches.

One of these is evangelism and the other is tithing. Evangelism was given a "shot-in-the-arm" with the missionary conference held here in the spring of 1947, when "Bob" LeTourneau came to Mansfield for a week-end conference.

Dr. J. Campbell White, who proposed the conference, has since been named executive chairman of the Ohio committee on the Christ for the World Movement and in that capacity has been preaching, not only evangelism throughout the world, but tithing so that finances may be available for the spreading of the gospel.

Dr. White links world peace with the tithing project. At a recent meeting he told an audience, "Such a program would bring world peace more rapidly and more surely than any other that is possible. The Bible says that when God's law is written in the hearts of men, and they walk in His ways, then "Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

1,000 TITHE

There are now approximately 1,000 persons in Mansfield churches who tithe regularly, Dr. White said, and more than 400 in the First Christian church who are now engaged in their annual 13 weeks of giving one-tenth to religious programs.

Rev. Ben F. Hagelbarger and Rev. James Davey can tell of successful tithing programs which have netted thousands of dollars in church and missionary funds and in the case of the First Christian church, at least, has put a reserve fund of $50,000 in the bank toward a new church home.

Rev. Hagelbarger has been speaking to various audiences in this section of Ohio. It was because of his inspirational sermon at the Park Avenue Baptist church a few weeks ago that the board of deacons, board of trustees and board of finance of the Baptist church voted unanimously to recommend to the membership at least a similar 13 weeks of tithing as that observed in the First Christian church this year.

★

Lenten sacrifices take on new and interesting angles each year. This season, the Presbyterian has set up a "Sacrificial Meal Plan" whereby the cost of one meal each week will be put into a special container for this purpose.

The one meal each week is to be similar to those served to families in Europe and Asia and the resulting savings given to the help of needy folks overseas. The cans are to be taken to the church on Easter Sunday.

★

The usual Lenten boxes at the First Christian church are being filled weekly and on Easter Sunday will be placed in a huge cross at the front of the church. This has been an annual project for a number of years. From the money thus obtained some special church of national project is financed.

Rev. Hagelbarger Offers 'Cross' Series

Rev. Ben F. Hagelbarger will preach the first in a series of sermons on the theme of the Cross, beginning tomorrow morning when his subject will be "Why the Cross for Jesus?"

Succeeding sermons will include: March 27, "Why the Cross, for God?" April 3, "Why the Cross, for You and Me?" April 10, "Love's Last Appeal"; April 17, "The Triumph of the Cross."

DEDICATION SERVICE

During the morning worship at the Central Methodist church a love feast and dedication service will be held.

Friends Urge Mayor to File For Governor

COLUMBUS —(INS)— From the southeast corner of the Columbus city hall to the northwest corner of the statehouse is a distance of less than two city blocks.

However, the distance politically is nothing like the four or five minute walk between the Columbus mayor's office and the Ohio governor's office—the two spots in question.

Nevertheless, friends and admirers of James A. Rhodes, better known as just "Jim", are urging the 39-year-old mayor to attempt to move his headquarters the couple of blocks in question.

These friends of Mayor Rhodes in other words, are urging him to enter the May, 1950, primaries as a candidate for the Republican nomination as governor.

Shows Film At Church

The Cathedral film, "The Blind Beggar of Jerusalem" will be shown at the opening Sunday school service at the St. Paul Lutheran church tomorrow.

The story as told according to Rev. John G. Gensel, in John 9 and 10, is that of the blind beggar who sat outside the gates of the Temple and who was healed by Jesus.

"The story gives us a vivid presentation of the growing hatred of the Temple authorities for Jesus," Rev. Gensel related. "The attempt of the Temple priests to force the beggar to deny the miracle fails. The beggar is cast out of the Temple and when Jesus hears of it, He goes immediately to him."

This film is one of the group which Donald Matthes presents to the membership.

Film On DP's Scheduled

Picture to Be Shown At St. Mark's Church

A moving picture "Answer for Anne" will replace the usual Thursday evening Lenten service at the St. Mark's Lutheran church next week.

This film is a fast-moving drama of a high school girl who asks the question, "Should our town take in displaced persons?" In the film Anne quizzes the shoemaker, the boy behind the soda fountain, the policeman on the corner, the mayor and other folks around town. Actual scenes as they now exist in European displaced persons camps appear in the film.

Rev. C. A. Portz, pastor of the church, said this film will be shown in preparation for the interdenominational fund-raising project for Sunday March 27.

Lenten services will be held as usual in other Mansfield churches during the coming week.

Rev. John G. Gensel will preach on the petition of the Lord's Prayer, "Thy Will be Done". There will be special music at each Lenten service. This week the newly organized boys' choir sang for the first time.

Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, pastor of the First Lutheran church, will speak at the St. Matthew's Lutheran church Wednesday evening. He will tell of "The White Rose" at services at his own church Thursday at 7:30 p. m.
